Celebrate CODING with Kentucky Science Center

Coding Science Celebration will showcase cutting edge technology, May 7 – 9

Louisville, KY (Tuesday, May 19, 2015) – On the heels of a presidential visit, Kentucky Science Center in Louisville is hosting a Coding Science Celebration, presented by Time Warner Cable and Connect A Million Minds with support from Interapt. From May 7 – 9, visitors can explore cutting edge technology and engage directly with software partners from across the region throughout exhibit spaces in the Science Center on Main Street. This event is FREE with paid admission.

"We're making coding more accessible than ever," said Science Center Executive Director, Joanna Haas. "With spectacular partners like Time Warner Cable, Connect A Million Minds, Interapt, Mommy's Best Games, Inc. and Net Tango this science celebration highlights those 21st century skills that have come to define this decade: Science, Technology, Engineering and Math."

Visitors to the Coding Science Celebration can get a taste of applicable computer skills, coding and explore the world of tech innovation. Partners will provide numerous hands-on technology experiences such as the infamous Google Glass as well as a wide range of interactive activities featuring game programming, website design, and more.

General admission to the Science Center is $11 for children ages 2-12 and $13 for adults. For more information or to purchase tickets, please visit KYScienceCenter.org or call 502.561.6100 ext. 6111.

About the Kentucky Science Center (KYScienceCenter.org)

Kentucky Science Center is a nonprofit educational institution that encourages people of all ages to do science in engaging, educational and entertaining ways to inspire a lifetime of learning. Designated the "State Science Center of Kentucky" by the 2002 Kentucky General Assembly, Kentucky Science Center features interactive exhibits and engaging programs for children, families and adults. Kentucky Science Center is committed to growing a scientifically literate community that investigates, questions, and challenges.

About Time Warner Cable: Connect a Million Minds

Time Warner Cable's (TWC) Connect a Million Minds (CAMP) is a five-year, $100 million cash and in-kind philanthropic initiative to address America's declining proficiency in science, technology and math (STEM), which puts our children at risk of not competing successfully in a global economy. Using its media assets, TWC creates awareness of the issue and inspires students to develop the STEM skills they need to become the problem solvers of tomorrow. TWC's national CAMP partners are CSAS (Coalition for Science After School) and FIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology). Local TWC markets are activating CAMP across the country with community-specific programs and partnerships.
